The Trade Copier (Coming Soon)

Mirror a leader account's fills to follower accounts.

Status: Coming Soon

The Trade Copier is not live yet. Live order routing is not enabled for customers, and the Copier and Bundle plans are not purchasable today. This guide explains what it will do so you know what to expect.

What it will do

When a leader account gets filled, the Copier mirrors that trade to one or more follower accounts. It is built as a cloud, server-side engine that reacts to the leader's broker fills.

Paper mode

A paper mode is being built where fills are simulated rather than sent to a real broker, so you can see how mirroring behaves before any real capital is involved.

Prop-firm compliance

Each follower can have its own execution timing and size variance. These are independence controls (Independent Trade Execution aids) — they are NOT a claim of undetectability. Following your prop firm's rules is your responsibility for each account.
